About

Even before COVID-19, technology was changing the way that every nonprofit pursued its mission. For many, the global pandemic has forced an acceleration of those changes. The Network of Jewish Human Service Agencies is working with an increase in community needs and new challenges in how programs and services can operate. To support agency staff strategically navigating these challenges and opportunities, the NJHSA IT Affinity Group is hosting a Network-wide Nonprofit Tech Readiness (NTR) cohort to provide support for Network member organizations looking to increase the internal technology management capacity of staff and provide direct support to those leading efforts to reimagine services online. Special appreciation is extended to the Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Foundation for their generous funding support of this cohort learning experience.
