

YOUTH MENTAL HEALTH CLINICIAN

Jewish Family Service of the Cincinnati Area is seeking a part time (flexible hours) Mental Health Professional to join our growing Youth Mental Health program. This new department is a high priority within our agency and will address the unmet mental health needs of youth, teens, and young adults through counseling, coordination, programming, and partnership opportunities.

The Youth Mental Health Clinician will have the opportunity to utilize their clinical expertise, ingenuity, and enthusiasm to work collaboratively on program design, implementation and program analysis, directly impacting how this new target population is served.

Guided by our values of Compassion, Integrity, and Excellence, this position will work across multiple youth facing organizations and their programs to collaborate on streamlining community oriented mental health care, including: time limited counseling, mental health programming, and coordinating care. Jewish Family Service serves people of all faiths and backgrounds and seeks to reflect that diversity in its professional staff as well.

POSITION SUMMARY:

The Jewish Family Service Youth Mental Health Clinician will:

- Serve as an embedded mental health professional within community organizations and their programs, providing point of care mental health services and working with organizational stakeholders to build the social emotional culture within youth, teen, and young adult facing organizations and their programs.
- Provide transitional mental health interventions through brief, solution focused counseling and facilitate warm hand offs to behavioral health providers, as appropriate.
- Work in collaboration with youth, teen, and young adult organizations and programs. Participate in their programming as needed to build strong ties between them and Jewish Family Service to facilitate better access to mental health care and strong partnerships between organizations.
- Deliver programming to teens and young adults that promotes mental wellness.
- Track data and outcomes to determine program efficacy. Assist with the development of grants and reporting.
- Provide mental health care coordination to the Cincinnati Youth, Teen, and Young Adult population, as needed.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

The Jewish Family Service Youth Mental Health Clinician will:

- Build partnerships and networks of care within the community and increase program resources.
- Respond to referrals; Complete an assessment with the identified client and their collaterals, as necessary, to determine the complexity and severity of mental health needs. Develop an initial plan of care.
- Assist to transition an individual's mental health treatment by providing brief counseling as a bridge to on-going mental health care if needed. Assist with warm hand-offs to appropriate providers as needed.
- Provide clinical support and assistance to encourage stakeholder use of Mental Health First Aid. Serve a key role as a member of a community learning collaborative.
- Manage time and tasks efficiently in order to meet required timelines.
- Lead, coordinate, or collaborate with other initiatives and/or projects, as assigned.
