

POSITION POSTING

Director of Human Services

Jewish Family Service of Columbia seeks a caring, collaborative, and dynamic Director of Human Services to lead the delivery of client-based services, along with programs for Jewish individuals and families living in the Columbia metropolitan area. The successful candidate will have a proven track record of effectively managing the competing needs of a community-based service organization.

The Director is an adept critical thinker and strategic planner who possesses well-developed cultural and interpersonal competencies, is results oriented, and is highly skilled in clinical service delivery systems and management.

JFS of Columbia is a service center of Columbia Jewish Federation. It plays a pivotal role in developing and sustaining a vibrant, connected, educated, and inclusive Jewish community. JFS develops and provides services that develop and enhance the wellbeing of Jewish adults, children, youth, families, and seniors who reside in the Columbia metropolitan area.

Columbia is the capital city of South Carolina. It is home to University of South Carolina's (USC) College of Social Work, a leading, research-based learning center in the top 20% of Social Work programs nationally, according to U.S. News & World Report, Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC), the oldest medical school in the South, and is a thriving hub in the healthcare and manufacturing sectors.

The Columbia Jewish community is small, but vibrant, priding itself on its warm, inclusive, and engaged population of diverse Jews, three dynamic synagogues, Chabad and Hillel on campus at USC, Katie & Irwin Kahn Jewish Community Center, Cutler Jewish Day School, Carolina Holocaust Education Commission, and Anne Frank Center at USC, the only partner of Amsterdam's Anne Frank House in North America.

The position requires a commitment of forty (40) hours per week (1.0 FTE), working on- and off-site, as required, during regular business hours.
