

Offerings To Support & Strengthen our Network

At this time of crisis impacting Israel, The Network of Jewish Human Service Agencies is consciously creating space as part of all of its offerings to process together the implications of the war and its impact on us as professionals, on our agencies, and our communities.

To ensure that professionals have access to ongoing support, The Network is launching a series of online groups specifically structured as forums for the professionals that work in Jewish communal organizations throughout N. America and Israel.

These groups are open to all professionals, those working in Network member agencies and those working in other organizations.

Understanding the depth of pain, loss and trauma that so many of us are experiencing, and the need for a safe space to process together with colleagues, The Network of Jewish Human Service Agencies will be holding the following professionally facilitated groups listed below.
